THE COLONIAL POST FAMILY OF SAYBROOK
AND HEBRON, CONNECTICUT:
ABRAHAM<sup>2</sup> POST AND HIS DESCENDANTS

Michael Rudy*

Lieutenant Abraham Post was active in the affairs of Saybrook, Connecticut during the latter part of the 17th century. He operated a business in trading goods from Saybrook, was apparently an expert land measurer, and had extensive dealings with the Mohegan Indians, whose language he was able to speak. The following genealogy traces his numerous descendants who at the time of the Revolutionary War lived mainly in the areas of Saybrook and Hebron, Connecticut. Of the 38 heads of household surnamed Post on the 1790 Federal Census for Connecticut, at least twenty-seven can be identified as being descended from him, as well as fifteen in Vermont, three in [Western] Massachusetts, and two in New Hampshire. The scattering of the family thus illustrates the typical migration pattern of the post-Revolutionary period.

This work was originally intended to trace the ancestry of Henrietta Minerva (Post) Bidwell (No. 22-x-7 below), whose origins family tradition placed in Gilead, Connecticut. The author soon discovered that very little information about the Connecticut Post family exists in the printed genealogical literature. The only study available is C.W. Post – The Hour and the Man: A Biography with Genealogical Supplement (Washington, D.C., 1963, hereinafter C. W. Post) by Nettie Leitch Major, which traces the lineal ancestors of Charles William Post and his socialite daughter Marjorie Merriweather Post. It represents the beginnings of a Post genealogy for the 17th century and identifies the English home of Stephen Post, the immigrant to New England. Most of the 18th century is not treated and what material is presented for that period unfortunately is very poorly referenced. In addition, a number of important record groups were overlooked, most notably the Guilford Probate District where Saybrook estates were probated from 1720 to 1780.

However, it appears that at least two attempts were made in the 19th century to publish a genealogy of the Connecticut Posts. The Connecticut Historical Society (hereinafter CHS) possesses two extensive 19th-century manuscript genealogies. The first of these, "The Post Family," was written by Rev. Frederick W. Chapman about 1874 (hereinafter Chapman Ms.), and traces descendants of Stephen Post. The second, three notebooks on the descendants of Lieut. Abraham Post and one notebook of miscellanea, was compiled by George H. Post and is based on correspondence of the late 1890s, most of which is still a part of the collection (hereinafter Post Ms.). Needless to say, both of these manuscripts contain valuable family records which otherwise might not have been preserved. They are referred to herein when primary sources remain incomplete.

The abundant resources of the Connecticut State Library (CSL) were used to compile this work. All vital records cited are from the Barbour Collection; those for Saybrook are printed in The Vital Records of Saybrook Colony 1635-1860 Including the Towns of Chester, Deep River, Essex and Westbrook, Connecticut, edited by Elizabeth Bull Plimpton (Saybrook, 1985). The church records for Westbrook, including church membership, are from Jean Rumsey, ed., First Congregational Church of Westbrook, Conn. (Dixon, Ill., 1979). Other church records (marked CRs) are from the Index of Church Records, CSL; and Connecticut gravestone inscriptions are from the Hale Collection there. In addition, the author personally visited the cemeteries at Westbrook, Essex, Hebron, and Gilead. The Connecticut Archives (Conn. Arch.) at the CSL, comprising petitions to the General Assembly, military records, etc., were also consulted, as were Connecticut probate records, now on microfilm, through the fifth generation of this family group. Other important primary sources used in compiling this work include the first two volumes of Saybrook Town Acts (the originals of which are at the CSL with photostatic copies in the Town Clerk's Office, Deep River), the first volume of Hebron Town Acts (original in the Town Clerk's Office, Hebron), and the photostatic copy of the Gilead Ecclesiastical Society meeting book at the Connecticut State Library. All places are in Connecticut unless otherwise indicated.

The following genealogical account is fairly standard except that where daughters married into families already treated in the secondary genealogical literature, the appropriate reference is given and the children of those families are not carried forward here. The identity of some of the women who married into the Post family is definitely known and indicated as such in this work. In other cases, the identity of the wives and mothers of the family is less certain and the author has indicated a probable identity, the proof for which must rest with future research. The author would like to thank the staffs of the CSL and the CHS for their kind and patient assistance and would also like to mention a special word of thanks to his late uncle, Mr. William Whittemore Low III, and his aunt, Mrs. Lucy E. (Bond) Low, of Old Lyme; to his brother, Professor Stephen Rudy of New York City; and to Mr. Thomas Catucci of West Hartford and Doha, Qatar.

1. (Lieut.) ABRAHAM<sup>2</sup> POST was the youngest son of Stephen<sup>1</sup> and Elinor (Panton) Post. Stephen Post was a carpenter who came from Otham, Kent, England, to Newtowne (Cambridge), Massachusetts about 1634 and then joined the group under Rev. Thomas Hooker which settled Hartford, Connecticut. He moved from Hartford to the Oyster River Quarter of Saybrook about 1649, where he died 16 August 1659 (Saybrook Deeds,

1:16; see Major, C.W. Post, 233-37; and Mary Walton Ferris, Dawes-Gates Ancestral Lines, 2 vols. [1943] [hereinafter Dawes-Gates], 2:667-68). Abraham's birth is given as about 1629 in the earlier genealogical literature. However, as no baptism occurs at Otham, Kent for him, it is probable that he was born after his parents arrived in New England. He appears to have come of age in 1661 and, thus, was probably born at Hartford about 1640 as stated in the Chapman Manuscript.

At a Saybrook town meeting held on 30 December 1667 Abraham Post, "Widow Post," and John Post drew the eleventh lot in undivided lands. A list of lots drawn in undivided land at Hartford "upland on the East Side ye River next to Windsor Bounds," dated 12 June 1669, shows an allotment of 90 acres to Stephen Post with the additional note: "This to Abram Post by gift of his mother" ("Original Distribution of the Lands in Hartford among the Settlers 1639," Collections of the Connecticut Historical Society, 14:493). Elinor Post died at Saybrook, 13 November 1670. She undoubtedly lived in her son Abraham's household, for her death is recorded in the Saybrook land records among the births of Abraham's children, along with the death of Abraham's mother-in-law, Ann (Bishop) (Jordan) Clark (Saybrook Deeds, 1:50). Abraham and his brother John Post are also on a 5 March 1673 list of proprietors of the Oyster River Quarter (Gilman C. Gates, Saybrook at the Mouth of the Connecticut [Saybrook, 1935], 211-12).

Abraham Post married, first, probably about 1663, MARY JORDAN, who was born about 1640 and died at Saybrook 23 March 1683/4, daughter of John and Ann (Bishop) Jordan. She was a servant to Rev. John Davenport in 1661 (Donald L. Jacobus, History and Genealogies of the Families of Old Fairfield [1930; repr. Baltimore, 1976], 1:346). John Jordan is named as one of the trustees in a deed of Uncas to the settlers of Guilford, 17 December 1641, and also in a deed of Weekwash to Mr. Whitfield, 20 September 1641, facts which seem noteworthy considering his son-in-law's later involvement in dealings with the Mohegans (see the Register, 62 [1908]:333-34). Abraham apparently married, second, LYDIA (BUCKLAND) (BROWN) (LORD) DUNK, daughter of William and Mary (Bosworth) Buckland and widow of John Brown, William Lord, and lastly Thomas Dunk [or Dunck], who appears to have been closely associated with both William Lord and Abraham. She died before 24 September 1700 when Benjamin Lord was administrator of the estate of Lydia Post (Conn. Arch., Private Controversies, Ser. 1, V:20, 211; Charles William Manwaring, A Digest of Early Connecticut Probate Records, 3 vols. [Hartford, 1904], 1:552; Kenneth Lord, Genealogy of the Descendants of Thomas Lord [New York, 1946] [hereinafter Thomas Lord], 72).

The first public mention of Abraham Post is an obligation of debt to him on the part of John Paine of Boston for £9 5s. to be paid the last of May 1661 (recorded in 1665), indicating that he was early engaged in a trading business (Saybrook Deeds, 1:50). On 18 October 1663 he sold a mare to Elias Doughty (ibid., 1:48). In 1665 he was fined 30 shillings by the Colony of Connecticut for neglecting to make accounts with the Treasurer; and in the same year was admitted as a freeman (J. Hammond Trumbull, ed., The Public Records of the Colony of Connecticut [Hartford, 1850] [hereinafter Conn. Public Records], 2:15,19).

In 1665 and 1666 two confirmatory land deeds were given by Uncas, Sachem of the Mohegans, to the town of Saybrook. The first of these, dated 4 July 1665, mentions Abraham Post as one of those who are to see to the disposal of the tract of lands contained in the deed. The deed was witnessed by Abraham and Robert Lay. The second, dated 10 April 1666, also mentions Abraham as a trustee for Saybrook (Gates, Saybrook, 204-5; the original deed of 1665 is at the CSL).

Together with Richard Raymond, Abraham is mentioned as a townsman for Saybrook in the "Articles of Agreement betwixt Saybrook - Lyme, 13 Feb. 1665" (ibid., 221). In 1667 he was confirmed as ensign of the Saybrook trainband (Conn. Public Records, 2:60). In 1669, together with Thomas Dunk, he witnessed a confirmatory deed given by Chapeto, a relation of Uncas, to William Lord of Saybrook, containing a tract of land in the town of Lyme which later comprised the town of Salem (Thomas Lord, 71-2).

On 5 February 1671 Abraham was elected a townsman for Saybrook and was also one of the collectors for the minister's rate. On 19 March 1673/4 he was to "measure Mr. Raiment's land" with John Parker and William Lord; on 16 March 1674 with John Clarke and John Tully to "run ye North line" between Saybrook and Killingworth. He also served as a lister. On 7 February 1675 William Parker, Jr. and Abraham "should view a Island in the North Cove;" and on 22 February 1676 Abraham was on a committee "to se[e] the towns lands at Manumketosok[?]" and lay them out.

Abraham Post was one of the legatees in the 1676 will of Joshua, son of Uncas. He was granted 4,000 acres (Conn. Arch., Indians, Ser. 1, 1:30a; also Register, 12 [1859]: 235-36). This land was in the area part of which later became the town of Hebron, and was settled by many of his descendants (see No. 2 especially; note also Dawes-Gates, 2:675-81). An interesting reference to Abraham appears in the 1678 petition of Uncas to the Governor "explaining and justifying his conduct" after the outbreak of King Philip's War. In the petition Uncas complains that Abraham, "a linguist skillful in the Indian tongues," had charged Uncas with taking part in a plot against the English. Abraham utterly denied that he had reported Uncas involved in any such plot (Conn. Arch., Indians, Ser. 1, 1:35a, 37a).

At a Saybrook town meeting held on 17 December 1677 Ensign Post was elected a townsman and on 3 December 1678 "Ensign Abraham Post, Senior" was appointed as one of the land measurers for the town. On that same date the town granted five acres apiece to the "Souldiers that went out of the Town in the Indian Wars [i.e. the Pequot War]." The land was surveyed by Abraham together with William Parker, Sr. and William Lord, Sr. (Gates, Saybrook, 168). On 22 December 1679 Abraham was chosen constable for Saybrook.

In 1680 Abraham was commissioned lieutenant of the Saybrook Fort (Conn. Public Records, 3:51). In that same year the General Court appointed a committee consisting of Abraham, Capt. James Fitch, Charles

Hill, and Lieut. Samuel Mason, to "try the line" between New London and the Mohegans. The committee was to see the line marked and settled "according to former grant of the Court, and good satisfaction of the Indians, if it can be attayened; if not to make return of the matter how they find it..." They were to do likewise for Norwich and Lyme (ibid., 71). The next year, 1681, the General Court appointed Abraham, together with Fitch and Mason, to "preambulate" with Uncas "concerning those lands of Uncas that are out of any plantation bounds." They were "to take notice of and to committ to writing what they observe he demands, and what right he makes to appear to his demands..." Abraham was also appointed with John Tully to lay out lands granted to Edward Griswold by the General Court (ibid., 81, 91).

Abraham served as a highway surveyor for Saybrook for the year 1683; was the "ordinary keeper" for 1684; and a townsman for 1685. In October, 1685 he served as a deputy from Saybrook to the General Court (Conn. Public Records, 3:181). He was chosen as one of the patentees for the town at a Saybrook town meeting on 20 July 1685 and is named in the patent given by the Governor to the proprietors of Saybrook, 3 March 1686/7 (Gates, Saybrook, 223). On 8 December 1687 Lieut. Abraham Post was "to view a certaine parcell of land lying betweene the land already laid out at Pattaconke & haddam bounds." He was chosen constable on 20 May 1689. The last mention of him in the Saybrook town records is that he served on a committee appointed 19 August 1690 to consider a gift Edward Lorey had made to the town.

Abraham appears only a few times in the Saybrook deeds. As mentioned, in 1665 there were recorded to him debts payable in currency or in "good shop commodities" (Saybrook Deeds, 1:50). In 1667 he bought five acres of meadow from Edward Codmer and in 1669 two acres of pasture from William Bushnell. In 1672 he drew Lot Number 14 (14 acres) in Pataconk lands laid out to the inhabitants of Saybrook (ibid., 1:50, 86). At a Saybrook town meeting held on 27 December 1680, confirmed by deed dated 25 April 1682, he was granted six rods of land by the town of Saybrook "for to erect a warehouse upon and to make a wharf there from into the water" (ibid., 1:52). The estate papers of Thomas Dunk mention "2 hydes at Abraham Post warehouse 01-06-09" and the "logs of Abraham Post" (Conn. Arch., Private Controversies, Ser. 1, 3:79, 82a). On 4 August 1687 it was recorded that Lieut. Abraham Post held a £250 right in the ox pasture (Saybrook Deeds, 1:117). There are also some miscellaneous papers concerning him in the Connecticut Archives: a letter in his own hand to Mr. [Richard] Ely, dated 20 March 1672; and his signature as a witness to a bill of Samuel Willis, dated 1 August 1680 (Conn. Arch., Towns and Lands, Ser. 1, 1:142; Private Controversies, Ser. 1, 3:219a; the text of the former appears in C.W. Post, 239-40).

The exact date of Abraham's death is not recorded in the Saybrook land records. He died in late 1690 or early 1691. As mentioned, the last reference to him in the Saybrook town records is on 19 August 1690. "At a Special Court holden at Saybrook March 3 1690/1" the inventory of the estate of Lieut. Abraham Post, Dec'd., was exhibited and Stephen Post, "Eldest Son," was granted power of administration. James Post, aged about 20 years, chose Deacon William Parker for his guardian and Daniel Post, about 17, chose Sergeant John Clarke. Stephen Post chose Mr. John Chapman and Ensign John Pratt to be guardians of the other children. A distribution of the estate was made to Stephen Post, eldest son (a double portion, £121 9s.) and to Abraham, James, Daniel, Jordan, Joseph, Mary and Eleanor Post (£52 each) (New London County Court Records, 7:46, 50; original in CSL). An inventory of the real estate, amounting to £487 8s.9d., taken 5 June 1705 by John Pratt and John Kirtland, was recorded 5 April 1706 along with various business debts due to and from the estate (New London Probate, A:321). It is interesting to note that the 4,000-acre right of land "given by ioshoua sachem to the legate[s] of Saybrook" was appraised at "fifteen pounds per thousand" or £60 total of the real estate. The other real estate was approximately 78 acres with various rights of division.

There is no record of distribution of real estate to sons Abraham and James Post. On 2 March 1694/5 Stephen Post granted portions from the estate to his brothers Daniel and Jordan (see Nos. 5 and 6); and in 1705 granted his brother Joseph his portion (see No. 7). On 28 October 1738 Stephen Post of Hebron wrote to Samuel Willard to record to his brother Daniel and his sisters Mary Pratt and Eleanor Parker one-third of a £100 right each in the Saybrook commons, "part of the Right which was my honrd Fathers..." (Saybrook Deeds, 2:217).

2. STEPHEN<sup>3</sup> POST (Abraham<sup>2</sup>, Stephen<sup>1</sup>) was born at Saybrook, 3 December 1664; and died at Hebron, 16 May 1752, aged 88 years (g.s.). He married at Saybrook, 14 June 1692 HANNAH HOSMER, who was baptized at Hartford (Second Church), 29 May 1670, died at Hebron, 25 January 1750/1, aged 80 years (g.s.), daughter of Stephen and Hannah (Bushnell) Hosmer. The will of Deacon Stephen Hosmer of Hartford, dated 2 November 1693, gives "eldest daughter Hannah Post £120, part of which I have already paid..." (Manwaring, Digest Early Conn. Probate, 1:472).

As mentioned above, Stephen Post was the administrator of his father's estate. There are numerous land transactions for him in the Saybrook deeds which will not be mentioned here, except to note that he is styled "cooper" in most of them. He was elected sealer of measures for the town of Saybrook on 2 February 1690, and was a constable for the year 1695. He signed the 30 December 1691 agreement concerning use of the ox pasture and the 24 December 1694 agreement between the town and the "successors of original proprietors over land rights." He was also a sealer of leather for the year 1696, a highway surveyor for 1697, and a sheepmaster for 1698. On 28 December 1702 he was chosen one of the collectors of the minister's rate.

Stephen was an important figure in the founding of the town of Hebron and was one of the committee of four, including John Pratt, Robert Chapman and John Clarke, representing the proprietors or "Joshua's legatees," who petitioned on 8 May 1707 for a township (Conn. Public Records, 5:25). According to an early, undated half-page manuscript at the Connecticut Historical Society, about 1708 Stephen and his family "removed from Saybrook to Hebron and planted themselves near Post Hill in A Log House." The Saybrook deeds support this statement, for on 1 March 1707/8 Stephen and Hannah Post sold two acres in the "town plat" to Nathaniel Lyne (Saybrook Deeds, 2:185), and he is called of Hebron in subsequent Saybrook deeds.

Stephen was the recipient of many land holdings as a legatee of Joshua and by 1716 a description of his lands included a 100-acre lot (#6), home lots #65, 66, 67, 69 and 72, a 50-acre lot (half of #4), 100-acre lots #16, 56 and 80, and meadow lots #35, 37, 6 and 70, plus another 70 acres. In 1719 he was granted five 30-acre divisions, and in 1720 a 55-acre division (Hebron Deeds, 1:106-8, 159, 198). In 1716 his signature appears on a petition of the proprietors against the selectmen of Hebron concerning the placement of the meeting house (Conn. Arch., Ecc. Affairs, Ser. 1, 2:21c). The placement of the meeting house was only one of several religious disputes which fill the first forty years of the history of Hebron. In 1718 Stephen petitioned the General Court for relief from double taxation as part of his lands were in the parish called the Crank [Lebanon] (Conn. Public Records, 6:47).

Although the original claim of Joshua's legatees was for a township five miles wide by eight miles long, various claims by grantees of Major James Mason of Norwich left part of the territory in dispute. In 1718, William Pitkin, Joseph Talcott and Timothy Woodbridge, a committee appointed by the General Court, gave a quitclaim to Stephen Post based on John Mason's claim from his grandfather, Major Mason, for most of his lands mentioned above or five eighty-fifth parts of the town of Hebron (Hebron Deeds, 1:173-4). In 1724 Stephen, with Obadiah Horsford and Jacob Root, Sr., served as a committee appointed by the General Court to settle land redistribution based on the Mason claim; the town granted land equivalencies, Stephen receiving about 310 acres (ibid., 2:68, 111-4, 118-9). Stephen seems to have had subsequent trouble with his neighbors as in 1725 he gave a quitclaim to Joseph and Nathaniel Dewey for a land boundary and "to establish Peace between us..." (ibid., 2:20-1). His name appears as a member of the committee when a claim, settled by the General Court against the proprietors, was brought against the Hebron proprietors by Thomas Fitch in 1735 (Conn. Arch., Towns & Lands, Ser. 1, 5:185-6).

In addition to representing the proprietors of Hebron in their various land disputes, Stephen was active in town affairs. He was a selectman for the years 1710 and 1712 and on 14 December 1710, 10 October 1713 and 12 February 1714 he was chosen to serve on committees for finding and hiring a minister. In 1723 Stephen was a grand juror and tithingman, also serving as a grand juror for the years 1727 and 1728. On 5 April 1727 he was on a committee to "run the line" with Bolton; on 26 March 1728 he was on another committee to establish bounds with Bolton and still another "to set up and keep a school;" on 29 April 1729 he served again on a committee to establish the town line with Bolton and again on the school committee. He appears on the 15 September 1730 list of freemen in Hebron and on 29 September of the same year he was on a committee "to agree with Sargt. John Phelps for a highway thru his land." Stephen was moderator of the town meeting held on 14 October 1731; on 24 April 1733 he was on yet another committee to establish bounds with Bolton. Stephen's signature, together with that of his brother Jordan, is on the 8 May 1734 petition of Rev. John Bliss complaining about the provisions of the Saybrook Platform and asking "to remain on foundation of ancient settlement" (Conn. Arch., Ecc. Affairs, Ser. 1, 7:315c). On 12 June 1735 Stephen was on a committee for hiring a new minister (see also ibid., 321), Rev. Bliss having been dismissed from the ministry of Hebron. Finally, on 11 September 1735 he was on another committee to go to the General

Court to settle "the place for a meeting house," which apparently had remained unsettled since 1716.

Stephen Post's career as one of Joshua's legatees exemplifies many of the changes which occurred in the social fabric of Connecticut during the first decades of the 18th century, notably the adoption of the proprietary form of town land ownership and the opening of Eastern Connecticut to settlement with subsequent political divisions over disputed land titles and religious affairs (see also No. 6 below). These social developments are discussed by Richard L. Bushman in his excellent study, From Puritan to Yankee: Character and the Social Order in Connecticut, 1690-1765 (Cambridge, Mass., 1967).

Stephen Post made grants of land to all of his children "for love" (Hebron Deeds, 1:371; 3:33-4, 38, 43, 46, 201). He gave 100 acres to Thomas in 1725; in 1735 he deeded 150 acres plus a 1000-acre right to Stephen, Jr., 150 acres and a 1000-acre right to son Gideon, and to daughter Hannah's children and his other five daughters (all named) a farm west of land given to Stephen and Gideon (which was divided by lots between his sons-in-law in 1747), and a 100-acre farm at "Dicerson's Pond" to his five sons and six daughters (all named). In 1736, he gave a 100-acre right to son Thomas, and in 1737, three parcels of land (153 acres) to Phineas and 150 acres (the "farm I now live on") plus a 1000-acre right to Israel. Finally, in 1744, he deeded part of 20 acres to sons Gideon and Stephen, Jr.

In his will, dated 5 October 1748, Stephen Post names his wife Hannah, sons Stephen, Thomas, Gideon, Phineas and Israel Post, and daughters Hannah Trumbull, Mary Huchason, Ester Dunham, and Dority Beckwit. The inventory, taken 15 June 1752, amounted to £4061 16s. 9d., indicating that Stephen had profited as one of Joshua's legatees (Colchester Probate Dist., File no. 2471). The gravestones of both Stephen Post and his wife Hannah are in a style unique to the Hebron cemetery, apparently the work of a carver from outside the area.

5. DANIEL<sup>3</sup> POST (Abraham<sup>2</sup>, Stephen<sup>1</sup>) was born at Saybrook, 28 November 1673. The date of his death is not recorded nor is there any probate for him. He was certainly living in 1740 and was probably still living in 1742 (see deeds below). He married at Saybrook, 29 August 1699, MARY RUTTY, who was born at Killingworth 16 February 1679, daughter of Edward and Rebecca (Stevens) Rutty. She died before 31 December 1754 when Daniel, Benjamin, and Isaac Post received their mother's share of her sister Sarah Carter's estate (John Steevens, 66).

In March of 1694/5 Daniel's brother Stephen deeded to him his portion from the estate of his father: one-half of the meadow Abraham Post purchased from Edward Codmer; one-half of the warehouse; and two acres at Tillies Point meadow. That same year he and his brother Jordan sold John Clarke 20 acres and purchased from him 50 acres (Saybrook Deeds, 1:218, 244). In 1720 his brother Stephen also deeded him a third of a £100 right in common lands (ibid., 1: 140; see No. 1). There are various other land purchases for him: one acre from Robert Lay in 1719; 10 acres from his brother Jordan in 1724; six and a half acres from Peabody Grenell in 1736, at which time he was called Daniel Post Sr. In 1738 bounds were established between his property and that of his brother Abraham and Samuel Bushnell (see No. 3). On 25 June 1739 he sold a third of a £100 right in commons to William Tully and on 17 September 1740 his brother deeded him and Samuel Bushnell 4 acres. He was probably still living on 7 September 1742 when his son is called Daniel, Jr., in a deed whereby he sold 30 acres to Benjamin Jones (ibid., 3:152, 308, 468; 5:135; 6:283; 7:441).

The Saybrook town records show that on 18 September 1722 Daniel signed a protest against conveying a tract of land to Major John Clark. He was a highway surveyor for the years 1724 and 1731, a tithingman for 1734, and a fenceviewer for 1735. He and his son Daniel are listed as privates when the First Militia Company of Saybrook was divided in 1724 (Conn. Arch., Militia Papers, Ser. 1, 1: 254). The tax list of 1724 for West Saybrook shows him with an estate of £122 16s., and his signature, with that of William Stannard, is on the 17 October 1726 petition of a committee of West Saybrook for help toward building a meeting house (ibid., Ecc. Affairs, Ser. 1, 3:70, 73). He owned the covenant at the Westbrook Church about 1727 or 1728.

John Murdock 24 acres "where I now dwell" in 1753, and in 1758, 4 acres with house, barn and orchard "where I now dwell" (Saybrook Deeds, 7:297, 777).

Cornelius served in a number of offices for the town of Saybrook. He was a lister 1746, a highway surveyor 1749, a grand juror 1751, a constable 1753 through 1756, a lister 1759 and 1761; a highway surveyor 1769; and a lister again in 1780.

6. JORDAN<sup>3</sup> POST (Abraham<sup>2</sup>, Stephen<sup>1</sup>) was born at Saybrook, 27 May 1676, and died at Hebron, 20 January 1748, aged 72 years (g.s.). He married at Saybrook, 17 November 1703, PHEBE LAY, who was living at the date of his will. She was undoubtedly the Phebe Lay born at Lyme, 13 January 1684, daughter of John "the Drummer" and Sarah (____) Lay, who shared in the distribution of her father's estate before her marriage (see Descendants of John Lay, Sr. who settled at Lyme, Connecticut prior to 1648 [n.d., n.p.]).

In 1695 his brother Stephen granted him his portion from the estate of their father: one-half of the meadow purchased by Abraham Post from Edward Codmer; one-half of the warehouse; and 14 acres at Pataconk. In that same year he and his brother Daniel sold John Clarke 20 acres and purchased from him 50 acres (Saybrook Deeds, 1:140, 244-4). In 1706 he sold 23 acres with dwelling house to Robert Lay (ibid., 2:181) and purchased 19 acres in Haddam from Nicholas Noyes of Salem (Haddam Deeds, 2: 19). He moved to Haddam about 1708 when his cattle mark in Saybrook was recorded to his brother Abraham (Saybrook Deeds, 1: 157). He was of Haddam on 16 February 1708/9 when he sold home lot No. 77 in Hebron to Edward Ratty of Killingworth (Hebron Deeds, 1:52). In 1713

She was bp. as an adult and owned the covenant at Westbrook Ch., 3 Oct. 1790. He served as a private in Capt. Benton's Co., 6 July to 3 December 1780 (Colls. Conn. Hist. Soc., 12[1909]: 215; Conn. Arch., Rev. War, Ser. 1, 17:35). He was a lister in Saybrook for the years 1783 and 1784, and beginning in 1788 was howard [hayward] for many years.

Children by second wife, Anne Gladden, bp. at Westbrook; surname Post:

19. BENJAMIN<sup>4</sup> POST (Daniel<sup>3</sup>, Abraham<sup>2</sup>, Stephen<sup>1</sup>) was born at Saybrook 3 January 1703/4, and died, presumably at Westbrook, before 14 April 1756 (see probate below). He married at Saybrook, 2 January 1734/5 MARY COLT. As widow Mary Post, she was admitted to communion in the Westbrook Church 13 March 1763. She died before 23 December 1782 when David, Jonathan, George, and Simeon Post, Joseph Corbit, and Lucy Spencer deeded to brother Benjamin Post "one certain piece of land that was under the improvement of our honored mother Mary Post Dec'd. containing five acres...it being the northwest corner of the land that belonged to our honored father Benjamin Post Dec'd." (Saybrook Deeds, 9:445).

Very little information survives concerning Benjamin. There is no probate for his father and Benjamin does not appear in the Saybrook deeds. He is listed as a private when the First Militia Company of Saybrook was divided in 1724 (Conn. Arch., Militia Papers, Ser. 1, 1:254). The only mention of him in the Saybrook town records is that he served as a hayward for the year 1739. He apparently was not a member of the Westbrook Church as most of his children were baptized there as adults: David, 26 March 1758; Jonathan, Benjamin, Mabel, and Lucy, 27 January 1765; George, 20 Dec. 1778; and Simeon, 17 March 1782.

Mary Post was granted administration on the estate of Benjamin Post 14 April 1756. The small inventory, dated 6 May 1756, amounted to £47 3s 8d. Distribution was made 16 November 1756 to the widow and children David, Jonathan, Reuben, Benjamin, George, Simeon, Mabel, and Lucy Post. On 15 May 1756, Jonathan, Reuben, Benjamin and Mabel Post chose their uncle Isaac Post as guardian and Mary Post was guardian to George

Post. There are other guardianship papers in the probate file, largely illegible on the microfilm edition (Guilford Probate File, not numbered).
